

Purchase agreement

September 14, 2026

Transaction particulars

Seller: Birch Quay Holdings Ltd. Buyer: Leila Noor. Property address: 42 Birch Quay, Toronto, Ontario (invented address for this exercise). Parcel identifier: DEMO-BQ-101. Purchase price: CAD 860,000. Deposit: CAD 43,000. Closing date: 2026-10-23. Residential freehold purchase.

Land and included rights

The conveyance is Lot 8, fictional Plan BQ-10, being DEMO-BQ-101, together with rights granted by instrument DEMO-BQ-E17 over Part 3 of DEMO-BQ-202. Part 3 remains the neighbour's land. The purchaser acknowledges that the price does not include ownership of Part 3.

Possession and intended use

The buyer intends to occupy the main dwelling and continue renting the separate rear coach house to its existing tenant. Schedule B, accepted by both parties for this exercise, retains that tenancy at CAD 1,650 per month. The buyer expects to leave a second vehicle overnight on the Part 3 access lane.

Execution and subsequent change

The seller execution block names Daniel Mercer, director. The original agreement price was CAD 885,000. Amendment BQ-01A dated October 16, accepted by buyer and Daniel for the seller, reduces it to CAD 860,000 following a roof inspection. All other terms remain unchanged. Signature images are intentionally omitted; execution events are fictional case facts.

Purchaser lender instructions

October 19, 2026

Advance particulars

Fictional lender: Harbourline Residential Lending. Borrower: Leila Noor. Property address: 42 Birch Quay. Parcel identifier: DEMO-BQ-101. Authorized advance: CAD 602,000. Purchase price: CAD 860,000. Authorized completion date: 2026-10-23. Instruction reference HR-402.

Approved application

The approved application describes one dwelling occupied solely by the borrower, vacant possession, and no rental unit or retained tenancy. This instruction does not incorporate Schedule B of BQ-01. The case lender requires written acceptance of any retained tenancy or additional dwelling before advance. No such acceptance accompanies HR-402.

Title and financing conditions

For this fictional transaction, counsel must report existing charges and any outstanding registered claim affecting DEMO-BQ-101 and obtain instructions on their disposition. Any borrowed contribution toward the buyer's closing funds must also be reported. The advance amount can change only through replacement written lender instructions.

Reporting

The final report is to identify the property and registered charge, explain exceptions reported to the lender, and attach the agreed evidence of registration. A request for a report does not establish that these events have occurred. These conditions are invented contractual instructions, not Scotiabank or FCT requirements.

DEMO-BQ-N26 | Construction lien claim | October 6, 2026 | Slate Roof Services Ltd. | claimed amount CAD 18,500. No deletion of N26 appears in the displayed date range.

Referenced instrument

C25 secures facilities MS-TERM and MS-REV as described in BQ-06. The description refers to easement E17 registered in 2018, outside this search window. A separately supplied excerpt appears in BQ-04.

Transmittal

The ordering clerk writes: I used the recent-registration filter for a quick update. The earlier full search is not attached to this delivery. No unfiltered register or bring-down after October 20 is included in this packet. The absence of older entries from this output is not a statement that none exist.

Access easement instrument excerpt

Registered July 12, 2018 (fictional)

Lands and parties

Instrument DEMO-BQ-E17. Benefiting land: DEMO-BQ-101. Burdened land: Part 3, DEMO-BQ-202. The excerpt contains the operative access and use clauses, but no plan drawing. All identifiers and terms are invented.

Granted use

The owner and lawful occupiers of DEMO-BQ-101 may pass and repass on foot and with private motor vehicles along Part 3 to reach the rear of the benefiting land. The right is nonexclusive and is shared with the occupiers of DEMO-BQ-202.

Limitations

The grant does not permit parking, vehicle storage, building construction or obstruction on Part 3. A gate may be installed only with the burdened owner's written agreement. No such gate agreement accompanies the excerpt.

Property correspondence

Buyer email dated October 18: I understand the lane is shared, but I assumed I could park there overnight. Seller reply: We have done so for years. Neither message is a variation of the recorded grant. No claim is made here about other rights that might exist outside the supplied evidence.

Corporate authority and party records

October 20, 2026

Entity identification

Fictional corporate profile: Birch Quay Holdings Ltd., demonstration entity DEMO-CORP-42, active as at October 20. Directors: Daniel Mercer and Priya Sen. The profile links this exact entity name to the seller in BQ-01 and the owner in BQ-03. Active status alone does not state who may sign a particular sale.

Board resolution

Resolution dated September 10 authorizes Daniel Mercer to execute a sale of DEMO-BQ-101 at a price of not less than CAD 880,000. Any reduction below that amount requires a further board resolution. Sale proceeds must be payable to Birch Quay Holdings Ltd. through counsel's trust account. No later resolution appears in this packet.

Name reconciliation

Buyer intake note: Leila Noor and Leila A. Noor in the deposit receipt refer to the same buyer. A supplied signed declaration explains the middle initial; counsel records a comparison of the supplied identity records. No government identifier or copy of an identity document is included. This note explains the name difference within the exercise, without independent authentication.

Execution note

Daniel signed the October 16 price amendment alone. He states in an email that Priya approved it during a telephone call. There is no recorded board ratification of the reduced price. No evidence establishes impersonation or a forged signature.

Secured facilities and payout statement

October 21, 2026

Creditor statement

Fictional creditor: Maple Shore Credit Ltd. Borrower: Birch Quay Holdings Ltd. Property: 42 Birch Quay. Charge: DEMO-BQ-C25. Parcel: DEMO-BQ-101. Statement MS-P21 relates to facility MS-TERM only. Payout amount: CAD 410,240.00. Valid through: 2026-10-26. Amount assumes receipt by that date. Closing is October 23.

Security schedule

The supplied security schedule states that C25 secures both MS-TERM and revolving facility MS-REV. A separate statement for MS-REV dated October 20 shows CAD 24,800 owing, available credit remaining, and account status OPEN. No combined payout statement is attached.

Release terms

The creditor servicing note says that a full release of C25 requires settlement of both secured facilities and cancellation of further draws on MS-REV, followed by discharge arrangements with the security desk. Paying the MS-TERM amount alone does not meet those recorded conditions.

Registration material

The document labelled prior discharge confirmation identifies DEMO-BQ-C19, a different charge discharged in 2024. It does not identify C25. Seller counsel has requested a consolidated payout and release undertaking for C25, but the reply is not in this delivery. No payment instructions or bank account numbers are provided.

Contractor settlement correspondence

October 21, 2026

Registered claim

Slate Roof Services Ltd. refers to roof contract RF-22 and claim DEMO-BQ-N26 against DEMO-BQ-101. The claimed sum is CAD 18,500. The parties dispute part of the workmanship and invoice. No conclusion on the claim's legal validity or priority is supplied.

Settlement offer

The contractor offers to accept CAD 15,000 if cleared funds reach counsel in trust by October 22 at 15:00 and both parties execute settlement terms. Its lawyer will then provide the agreed discharge documentation for N26. The offer lapses unless accepted on those terms.

Supplied acceptance and receipt

The seller signed its acceptance page, but the contractor's execution field is blank. The only receipt in the packet acknowledges CAD 2,000 for gutter cleaning under separate contract GC-11. It expressly says that payment does not settle RF-22 or N26.

Closing preparation

The draft trust ledger reserves CAD 15,000 for October 23. No extension of the October 22 deadline, confirmed receipt, completed settlement, or discharge undertaking is included. An agent forwarding email describes the contractor matter as paid.

Municipal property and inspection records

October 20-21, 2026

Property information response

Fictional municipal records office response for 42 Birch Quay. Permit DEMO-BQ-21-041 BLD concerns conversion of the rear coach house to a dwelling. Status: OPEN, final inspection outstanding. Notice DEMO-BQ-O18 requests an egress inspection of that space. Its recorded status remains OPEN.

Inspection request and response

A separate request names only permit DEMO-BQ-24-090 HVA, for replacement of the main-house heating system. The October 21 response marks that heating inspection complete and names no other permit. The request does not include coach-house permit 21-041 BLD.

Scope of information

The property information response reports file and inspection status. It does not determine permitted use of the coach house or certify the whole property. No zoning-use response accompanies it. The next appointment offered for coach-house final inspection is October 28, after the October 23 closing.

Forwarding email

Seller's agent: The City signed everything off yesterday, including the tenant space. Attached: the heating inspection response only. No municipal officer adopts that broader statement. This discrepancy requires clarification; it does not by itself prove the coach house is unlawful.

Survey-related evidence and occupation

October 19, 2026

Historical report

A fictional surveyor's written report dated June 6, 2012 describes the principal dwelling and a detached storage structure, then 1.10 metres inside the north boundary. It predates the coach-house conversion and a later deck. No drawing is included in this text-only packet.

Current physical changes

Seller renovation schedule dates a north-side deck extension to 2023. Seller estimates its outer edge to be about 0.20 metres from the fence. The schedule supplies no measured relationship between the fence and the legal boundary.

Neighbour correspondence

The north neighbour writes on October 19: I believe the new deck crosses our line, and would like a surveyor to check it. The seller disagrees. Neither supplies current measurements or a boundary agreement.

Professional reply

The surveyor's office confirms that the 2012 report cannot locate improvements built afterward. Updated fieldwork has not been commissioned. This record establishes a specific unresolved physical-boundary question, not a measured encroachment. Legal rights to the access lane are described separately in E17.

Buyer funds and draft closing ledger

October 21, 2026

Funds already held

Deposit receipt: CAD 43,000 from Leila A. Noor on September 15. Counsel's ledger credits that deposit once toward the purchase. Buyer cash available for closing: CAD 195,000 from existing savings. Proposed new advance from Harbourline: CAD 602,000.

Uses and additional source

Purchase price CAD 860,000 plus a fictional fixed allowance of CAD 8,000 for closing costs gives total uses of CAD 868,000. The allowance is an exercise value, not a calculation of Ontario taxes or actual fees. Buyer proposes a CAD 28,000 repayable family loan to complete the funds.

Family note and lender correspondence

The family note requires repayment within twelve months and interest of 3 percent. It is not a gift. Harbourline instruction HR-402 requires disclosure of borrowed closing contributions. No lender response accepting this family loan is attached. The arithmetic balances only if that CAD 28,000 source is included.

Different financing worksheet

A broker worksheet proposes CAD 630,000 of lender financing and omits the family loan. It is marked REQUEST ONLY. The lender's authorized advance remains CAD 602,000. Do not combine the proposed CAD 630,000 advance with the family loan or credit the deposit twice.

Payment-direction messages and contact log

October 21, 2026

Established instructions

Seller counsel's intake records specify that net proceeds are payable to Birch Quay Holdings Ltd. The contact record identifies an established office number and company-domain email, with actual contact details omitted from the exercise. The board resolution BQ-05 uses the same corporate recipient.

New message

A message from birchquay-settlement@example.invalid asks counsel to redirect net proceeds to a newly named external recipient, Northlight Consulting. It says the company account is under maintenance, requests urgent action and supplies its own callback number. The sender asks counsel not to call the established office number.

Verification attempts

At 11:30 counsel called the number already held in the original intake file and left a message. No return call or independently confirmed instruction appears in the log. A call to the new number reached a person claiming to be Daniel. The log does not establish who controlled that number.

Current handling

The assistant marked the new direction HOLD - NOT VERIFIED and recorded that no funds had been sent under it. No independent evidence establishes the external recipient's entitlement. The records support a verification concern and a conflict with the corporate direction, without proving fraud or identifying a perpetrator.

File chronology and counsel delivery note

October 21, 2026 at 16:00

Chronology

September 10: board resolution. September 14: purchase agreement. October 16: price amendment. October 19: lender instruction and neighbour letter. October 20: restricted registry output and municipal status. October 21: payout, ledger, and changed payment message. Planned closing: October 23.

Delivery contents

The twelve consecutively numbered pages in this PDF are separate fictional record excerpts BQ-01 through BQ-12 assembled into one text-based dossier. No external attachment is implied by a reference unless its text appears here. The source research and evaluation key are outside this dossier.

Outstanding correspondence

Counsel's delivery email says requests for updated corporate approval, lender responses, consolidated creditor release terms and roof settlement completion have been sent. It encloses no replies. The buyer's planned occupation and retained tenancy remain as recorded in BQ-01.

Exercise boundary

All people, entities, addresses, instruments, events and monetary values in this packet are fictional. No institution issued these records. Treat reported facts as supplied evidence for this exercise, and distinguish substantive discrepancies from limits on real-world verification. No policy decision, authentication, legal opinion or permission to close is supplied.
